Ms Reman Singh
Director – Human Resources

12 June 2026

Dear Mr Aarav Aggarwal

Internship Offer Letter

With reference to your application, we would like to congratulate you on being selected for an internship with the Council on Energy, Environment and Water (CEEW) based in Delhi, India. Your internship is scheduled to start from 15 June 2026 until 30 June 2026.

The offer of an intern position in no manner conveys an offer or an expectation of an offer for long-term employment at CEEW.

You will be largely working with the Climate Resilience team. In addition, you should be prepared to assure fulfilment of additional responsibilities assigned to you. The Terms of Reference and your other responsibilities will be as outlined in Annexure A. You will report to Mr Shravan Prabhu, Programme Associate, CEEW.

Hours of Work

CEEW observes 5-workdays/week with working hours between 8.30 am to 6.00 pm. There will be a 30-minute lunch break. CEEW reserves the right, if it reasonably requires, of increasing, reducing and/or otherwise varying or altering your hours or times of work.

Care of office equipment

You would be responsible for safekeeping and return in good condition and in order all office property, which may be in your use, custody or charge.

Termination

CEEW reserves the right to terminate the agreement without reason and cause by providing the employee 01 (One) weeks' notice in writing or wages in lieu of such notice. As part of our hiring process, we will initiate background verification through our partner, AuthBridge, immediately after you accept this offer. Your onboarding and start date will depend on the successful verification of your credentials, background, and other information provided during this process. If any information is found to be false, misleading, or incomplete, or if the background verification results are unsatisfactory to the Council, this offer may be revoked, or your contract may be terminated, as appropriate.

Confidentiality and Restraints

a. You shall, at all times during the term of this Letter with CEEW and thereafter, hold in strictest confidence, and not use, except for the benefit of CEEW, or disclose to any person, firm, corporation or legal entity without the prior written consent of CEEW, any Confidential Information, including Proprietary Information of CEEW.
b. 'Proprietary Information' means any CEEW technical data, trade secrets or know how, including, but not limited to, research, product plans, products, services, suppliers, customer lists and customers (including, but not limited to, clients of CEEW on whom you have met or with whom you have become acquainted during engagement), prices and costs, markets, software, developments, inventions, laboratory notebooks, processes, formulas, technology, designs, drawings, engineering, hardware configuration information, marketing, licenses, finances, budgets or other information disclosed to you by CEEW either directly or indirectly in writing, orally or by drawings or observation of parts or equipment or created by CEEW during the period of your engagement. Proprietary Information will also include, but is not limited to, information pertaining to any aspects of CEEW's affairs which is either information not known by actual or potential competitors of CEEW or is proprietary information of CEEW or its customers or suppliers, whether of a technical nature or otherwise. Further, it will include, all analyses, compilations, studies, reports, research, results, records or other documents or materials which contain, or are prepared on the basis of, any information or material which CEEW furnished to you or prepared by or for you based on information or material which CEEW furnished to you.

c. For the purposes of this Letter, the term "Confidential Information" means: (i) information or material that gives or could give CEEW some competitive advantage or the disclosure of which could be detrimental to CEEW's interests; (ii) information or material which is owned by CEEW or in which CEEW has an interest (including information or material you conceive, originate, discover or develop in whole or in part while rendering the Services as per the Letter to CEEW; and (iii) Proprietary Information.
d. Confidential Information does not include any of the foregoing items which has become publicly known and made generally available through no wrongful act of CEEW or of others who were not under confidentiality obligations as to the item or items involved or improvements or new versions thereof or any submission required and directed by the court of law.
e. You must maintain proper and secure custody of all Confidential Information and use highest endeavours to prevent the use or disclosure of any Confidential Information by or to third parties.
f. You must immediately deliver to CEEW all documents or other things in your possession, custody or control and on which any Confidential Information is stored or recorded, whether in writing or in electronic or other form, upon termination/expiration of this Letter with CEEW or at any time on the request of CEEW; or if requested by CEEW, instead of delivering the Confidential Information to CEEW, destroy the Confidential Information (in the case of data stored electronically or in other form, by erasing it from the media on which it is stored such that it cannot be recovered or in any way reconstructed or reconstituted) and certify in writing to CEEW that the Confidential Information, including all copies, has been destroyed.

Intellectual Property Rights

All right, title and interest in and to all tangible and intangible Services and service products, developed or produced by you during the term of this Letter and association with CEEW including any analysis, review, specifications, drawings, models, samples, data, formula, computer programmes, inventions, works of authorship, reports or any documentation, and all right, title and interest in and to patents, copyrights, trade secrets, trademarks and other Intellectual Property derived from such services and work products shall belong to CEEW and where required shall be promptly transferred by you in favour of CEEW. All such materials shall belong exclusively to CEEW, with CEEW having the right to obtain and hold in its name patents, copyrights, registrations or other such protection as may be appropriate to the subject matter, and any extensions and renewals thereof. You also agree to execute, in this regard, all relevant documents and give CEEW and any person designated in writing in this respect by CEEW all reasonable assistance, at CEEW's expense, that may be required or helpful to perfect the rights of CEEW.

"Intellectual Property" as used in this Letter shall include but not be limited to -

(i) all discoveries, authorship, developments, designs, improvements, inventions, blueprints, formulae, processes, techniques, strategies, know-how and data, whether or not registerable or patentable under copyright or patent or similar statutes, any and all trademarks, service marks, trade names, domain names, names and logos, trade dress, mask works, trade secrets, patents, designs, copyrights, non-registered trademarks and other intellectual property, know-how, and processes whether or not registerable under any statutory provision under the laws of any country or jurisdiction in the world;

(ii) all computer applications, programmes and other software, including without limitation operating software, network software, firmware, middleware, and design software, all design tools, systems documentation and instructions, databases, and related items; and

(iii) any common-law rights arising from the use of the foregoing, any rights commonly known as the "moral rights" of authors relating to the foregoing, all rights of renewal, continuations, divisions, extensions and the like regarding the foregoing and all claims, causes of action, or other rights arising out of or relating to any actual or threatened infringement or misuse of the foregoing by any person relating to the foregoing.

We look forward to seeing you on 15 June 2026 and extend a very warm welcome.

Thank you

Warm Regards

Yours sincerely

Reman Singh

About CEEW

The Council on Energy, Environment and Water (CEEW) is one of Asia's leading not-for-profit policy research institutions and among the world's top climate think tanks. The Council uses data, integrated analysis, and strategic outreach to explain — and change — the use, reuse, and misuse of resources. The Council addresses pressing global challenges through an integrated and internationally focused approach. It prides itself on the independence of its high-quality research, develops partnerships with public and private institutions, and engages with the wider public. CEEW is a strategic/ knowledge partner to 11 ministries for India's G20 presidency.

The Council's illustrious Board comprises Mr Jamshyd Godrej (Chairperson), Mr S. Ramadorai, Mr Montek Singh Ahluwalia, Dr Naushad Forbes, Dr Janmejaya Sinha, Dr Suresh Prabhu, Ms Vinita Bali, and Mr Amitabh Kant. The 400+-strong executive team is led by Dr Arunabha Ghosh. CEEW has repeatedly featured among the world's best managed and independent think tanks.

In over 15 years of operations, The Council has engaged in 550+ research projects, published 510+ peer-reviewed books, policy reports and papers, created 220+ databases or improved access to data, advised governments around the world 1400+ times, promoted bilateral and multilateral initiatives on 160+ occasions, and organised 650+ seminars and conferences. In July 2019, Minister Dharmendra Pradhan and Dr Fatih Birol (IEA) launched the CEEW Centre for Energy Finance, which is now known as CEEW Green Finance Centre (CEEW-GFC). In August 2020, Powering Livelihoods — a CEEW and Villgro initiative for rural start-ups — was launched by Minister Piyush Goyal, Dr Rajiv Kumar (then NITI Aayog), and H.E. Ms Damilola Ogunbiyi (SEforAll).

The Council's major contributions include: Informing India's net-zero goals; work for the PMO on accelerated targets for renewables, power sector reforms, environmental clearances, Swachh Bharat; pathbreaking work for India's G20 presidency, the Paris Agreement, the HFC deal, the aviation emissions agreement, and international climate technology cooperation; the first independent evaluation of the National Solar Mission; India's first report on global governance, submitted to the National Security Advisor; support to the National Green Hydrogen and Green Steel Missions; the 584-page National Water Resources Framework Study for India's 12th Five Year Plan; irrigation reform for Bihar; the birth of the Clean Energy Access Network; the concept and strategy for the International Solar Alliance (ISA); the Common Risk Mitigation Mechanism (CRMM); India's largest multidimensional energy access survey (ACCESS); critical minerals for Make in India; India's climate geoengineering governance; analysing energy transition in emerging economies, including Indonesia, South Africa, Sri Lanka, and Viet Nam. CEEW published Jobs, Growth and Sustainability: A New Social Contract for India's Recovery, the first economic recovery report by a think tank during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Council's current initiatives include: State-level modelling for energy and climate policies; consumer-centric smart metering transition and wholesale power market reforms; modelling carbon markets; piloting business models for solar rooftop adoption; fleet electrification and developing low-emission zones across cities; assessing green jobs potential at the state-level, circular economy of solar supply chains and wastewater; assessing carbon pricing mechanisms and India's carbon capture, usage and storage (CCUS) potential; developing a first-of-its-kind Climate Risk Atlas for India; sustainable cooling solutions; developing state-specific dairy sector roadmaps; supporting India's electric vehicle and battery ambitions; and enhancing global action for clean air via a global commission 'Our Common Air'.

The Council has a footprint in over 20+ Indian states, working extensively with 15 state governments and grassroots NGOs. Some of these engagements include supporting power sector reforms in Uttar Pradesh, Rajasthan, and Haryana; energy policy in Rajasthan, Jharkhand, and Uttarakhand; driving low-carbon transitions in Bihar, Maharashtra, and Tamil Nadu; promoting sustainable livelihoods in Odisha, Bihar, and Uttar Pradesh; advancing industrial sustainability in Tamil Nadu, Uttar Pradesh, and Gujarat; evaluating community-based natural farming in Andhra Pradesh; and supporting groundwater management, e-auto adoption and examining crop residue burning in Punjab.

We are particular about what we stand for (and what we do not stand for!) as an employer. So, if the below description strikes a chord, we would love to hear from you!

At CEEW, we build careers in public policy

Designation offered: Intern
Reporting to: Programme Associate Programme Area: Climate Resilience
Location: New Delhi
Duration: Two weeks

Purpose

CEEW is looking to hire a Research Intern with foundational skills in primary survey design and basic data analysis to join the Climate Resilience team. The role will focus on supporting field research and data collection activities that advance India's heat resilience agenda

The candidate will assist in designing and administering household and community surveys, cleaning and organising collected data, and conducting basic quantitative analysis to support the team's research outputs. Applicants should have a background in social sciences, development studies, economics, public policy, statistics, or related fields. Familiarity with survey tools and basic data handling software is expected.

Job Duties and Accountabilities

Primary Responsibilities

Research and Survey Support

The intern will assist in designing primary survey instruments, including household questionnaires and community checklists, for data collection on heat exposure, vulnerability, and coping behaviour. They will support field data collection activities, including coordinating with enumerators and ensuring data quality during and after surveys. The intern will clean, organise, and maintain survey datasets in Excel or similar tools, flag data inconsistencies, and prepare data in formats suitable for further analysis. They will conduct basic descriptive analysis of survey data, including frequency distributions, cross-tabulations, and summary statistics, and assist in presenting findings through simple tables, charts, and graphs. The intern will also support desktop research and literature reviews related to survey methodology, heat vulnerability indicators, and community resilience.

Other Responsibilities

The intern will respond to research requests from senior team members, prepare summaries of data findings, and assist in drafting sections of research notes or briefs. They will help create presentations and supporting materials for team meetings, workshops, and events. The intern is expected to participate actively in weekly team meetings and contribute suggestions on data collection and survey design. They should also be prepared to take on additional tasks as and when required.

In addition to the duties and responsibilities below, the individual should be prepared, as and when necessary, to take on additional responsibilities.

CEEW operates in a dynamic environment and the candidate will be required to show flexibility in undertaking a variety of tasks.
